Our History
The Community Action Agency (CAA) network was established in 1964 to create opportunity and move Americans out of poverty. Today the Minnesota network includes 24 Community Action Agencies and 11 Tribal Nations, serving all 87 counties with social services and wraparound programs specific to their communities' needs and strengths. As a statewide network, CAAs are able to leverage each other's resources to pivot quickly when opportunities or crises arise. The federally-funded Community Services Block Grant (CSBG) and the Minnesota Community Action Grant (MCAG) provide the backbone funding for CAAs, their identity and core mission. CAAs receive additional funding through various federal and state programs, foundations, individual gifts and corporate funding. CSBG and MCAG funds provide the flexibility necessary to meet each community's evolving needs.

What Makes Us Unique
Tripartite Board Made Up of Local Community
CAAs must have a tripartite board comprised of one-third community members representing individuals with low incomes, one-third local elected officials, and one-third local business owners or community leaders.

Services Based on Local Needs & Strengths
Every 2–3 years, CAAs complete a community needs assessment. Based on this needs assessment, CAAs tailor their programs and services to meet the greatest needs and opportunities in their community and fill gaps -- from food access, to transportation, childcare access, and housing assistance.

Jobs and Funding brought to Communities
CAAs receive federal, state, and local government funding, leverage individual and private funding sources and bring jobs and dollars into local Minnesota communities.
